PRETTY YOUNG ELOPING WIFE OVERHAULED IN FORT WAYNE.

Mystery Surrounding Assassination of Henry Shade, of Terre Haute, in 1891, Cleared Up.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FORT WAYNE, Ind., July 31.-Early in July a young couple arrived here and secured rooms at No. 226 Calhoun street as husband and wife. Later the alleged husband left, and the pretty eighteen-year-old woman went to work as a domestic. Today a Mr. Felker and J. F. Fike, of Leipsic, O., came to Fort Wayne in search for a daughter and wife. When located the pretty domestic proved to be Fike's wife and Fixer's daughter. She had deserted her hus and in June, taking with her $70 of his money. She came here and met a lover named Harter, and the couple lived togetaer until the money was gone. Mr. Felker broke down when he met his daughter, and she cried a little, too. Her treatment of her husband was very cold, and she asserted very confidently that she would never again live with him. She said she did not love him and never had. By threats of arrest Mrs. Fike was induced to return to Leipsic on the Nickel-plate, to-night, with her husband and father. She is an only daughter, and the father is wealthy.

ARRESTED A STRIKER.

A C. & E. I. Conductor After that Reward for Byrnes's Murderer.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 31.-A freight conductor on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois road this morning placed under arrest in his caboose John R. Brennan, a C. & E. I. striker, on suspicion that he is the man who assassinated engineer Byrnes at Danville. This morning Brennan jumped on the freight train as it was leaving Danville. The conductor knew that he had been very anxlous to get out of Danville, and also knew that he had made threats against Byrnes. The conductor questioned Brennan, who became confused and said he hadn't heard of the murder about which all Danville had been talking. The conductor tocked him in the caboose closet and delivered him over to the police here, who are holding him for the Danville authorities.

CONFESSED TO MURDER.

An Aged Negress Says She Killed Shade at Mrs. Shade's Request. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 31 .- The reported confession of Mrs. Moore, an old negress, that she shot and killed Henry Shade, in 1891, at the request of Shade's wife, has created great comment here. Superintendent of Police Meagher said: "This is a very peculiar case. The negress, Mrs. Moore, who subsequently moved to Louisville from Terre Haute, died a month ago at Louisville and on her death bed she made this confession which we have just learned. The name of our informant to whom the negress confessed we are withholding. Mrs. Shade's whereabouts are unknown. She has left Terre Haute. We have the statement straight from the lips of the person to whom the negress confessed. We always suspected, and so did the coroner and the public generally, that Mrs. Shade knew all about the killing, and that she or her grown sons killed him, but the stories of his cruelties to his family and conduct toward his step-daughter, who was a very handsome girl, which came from so many sources, rather led to a feeling of sympathy for the family, and no serious effort was made to unravel the case until we were placed in possession of this confession. We had Mrs. Shade before coroner, as well as her children at the time of the assassination, and we all thought they had killed him, but we had no evidence to that effect until now. He was a large, fine-appearing man, and ne met his death as he was leaving his home with his lunch basket in his hand.

Trying to Commit Suicide. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

ELKHART, Ind., July 31.-There were two successful cases of suicide the latter part of last week, and Sunday night Wade Barney, aged twenty-five, son of S. E. He was discovered and three hours' hard work by a physician saved his life. The same night Mrs. R. J. Bisnop, wife of a traveling man, was found in an unconscious and precarious condition from some sor; of poison, though she denies taking it with sulc.dal intent. Last night young Barney made another effort to poison himself, and was very nearly successful, but was again found, and, after a hard siege, brought out of a deathly stupor. This is said to have been his sixth attempt, and he declares that he will yet succeed. He is a medical student and a young man of ability.

Mrs Lacy was lying asleep in one of the rooms of her house, with her baby in her arms. Her head rested against a stove, and this acted as a conductor for the lightning, which entered the house. WITHOUT A STRUGGLE

GOVERNOR RICH, OF MICHIGAN, RE-NOMINATED AT DETROIT.

Pingree Men Talk of an Independent Ticket-Indiana Political News-Gilroy's Prediction.

DETROIT, Mich., July 31.—The State Republican convention was held here to-day and Governor Rich was renominated with an overwhelming vote. There is talk of the Pingree men from Detroit calling a convention and nominating Mayor Pingree as an independent. The ticket chosen to-day follows:

Governor-Gov. Jones T. Rich. Lieutenant Governor-Alfred Milnes, of Branch county. Secretary of State-Rev. Washington Gardner, of Jackson. Treasurer-James M. Wilkinson, of Mar-

Auditor-general-Stanley W. Turner, of Roscommon. Attorney-general-Fred A. Maynard, of Land Commissioner-William A. French, of Presque Isle. Superintendent of Public Instruction-H. R. Pattengill, of Ingham. Member Board of Education-Perry F. Powers, of Wexford.

The convention was called to order by W. R. Battes, secretary of the State central committee, at 10:25 o'clock. The convention hall was packed and great enthusiasm was displayed. After a call of the convention had been read Mayor Fish made an address of welcome. This afternoon, as the committee on resolutions was not ready to report, the nomination of the State ticket was proceeded with. George A. Farr, of Grand Haven, placed the name of Gov. Jones T. Rich in nomination. Several others seconded the nomination. Col. A. T. Bliss was placed in nomination for Governor by C. L. Benjamin, of Saginaw. Mayor Pingree's claims to the nomination for Governor were not formally presented to the convention. After the presentation of the name of Aaron T. Bliss, of Saginaw, a vote was taken and the Pingree men carried out their plans. As outlined last night they stood mute, declining to vote. The result of the vote was announced: Rich, 721; Bliss, 98; "Mr. Blank," 121. Of the votes for "Mr. Blank," were from Wayne county (Detroit), the others being scattered around various counties, one to three from each. Governor Rich and Colonel Bliss addressed spond to repeated calls. There was no considerable contest over the remainder of the ticket. The Pingree men voted, in some instances, in opposition to the Rich slate, but their influence did not govern the result in any case. Pingree men tonight continue to declare that the Detroit Mayor's friends will have an opportunity to vote for him as Governor. They say the plan to bring him out as an independent Republican candidate, substituting his name for that of Rich at the head of the ticket made to-day, would be carried out. Some of them have fixed the date of the independent convention for

The resolutions adopted to-day contain the following: "We believe that the doctrine of reciprocity as advocated by that matchless statesman, J. G. Blaine, should, under our protective system, be the policy of our government and applied in our trade relations with other nations. "The sword and torch must not settle economic differences. We believe in arbitration as one of the means to solve labor "We believe in the use of gold and silver as money metals to be maintained in circulation on a perfect equality and interconvertibility. "Resolved, That we send a hearty greeting and welcome to our young sister republic of the seas (Hawaii), and assure her of our most earnest sympathy and best wishes for a glorious future. "We believe in the honesty and integrity of the Republican press of Michigan, and desire to take advantage of this occasion to give formal expression of our high appreciation of the invaluable support readered the party in the past and to be rendered in the future."

TAMMANY FRIGHTENED.

Gilroy Says if Republicans Win This

Year They Will in 1896. NEW YORK, July 31 .- Mayor Gilroy returned from Saratoga to-day and had something to say about the coming election. "Tammany," said the Mayor, "is not bound to select a man for Mayor from within the ranks of the organization this fall. We may nominate a man who is not a member of Tammany Hall, if it is thought that the interests of the Democratic party require it. The fight this year is but the preliminary skirmish to the real battle in 1896. If the Republicans win in this city and State next fall there is not the slightest doubt but they will carry the country in 1896. They will also elect the next Congress and leave the President without the support of either branch of the Legislature during the last two years of his term. In view of these conditions it fices in the interest of his party.'

behooves every Democrat to make sacri-Asked if he thought Tammany would go outside the organization for mayoralty timber, Mr. Gilrov said that such a move might be made. "it used to be thought necessary to renominate a man for the purpose of vindicating him," said the Maybut I want no vindication. I think the prospects of Democratic harmony are now fairly good. The people are beginning to awake to the fact that the Republicans are preparing for the effort of their lives this fall, and if they succeed, it will be good-bye to Democratic ascendency in this city. State and Nation for years to come.' The Mayor would not discuss what measures are likely to be taken to bring about harmony with the State Democracy.

GRIFFIN WITHDRAWS.

Not a Candidate for Congress in the Tenth District.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. HAMMOND, Ind., July 31 .- As the time for holding the Republican congressional convention in this district draws near many of the persons who have been mentioned as possible candidates are withdrawing their names and declining to make the race. To-day ex-Secretary of State Charles F. Griffin came out with an interview stating that under no consideration would he permit his name to go before the convention, as his business and health would not permit him to make the race. This leaves Lake county without an avowed candidate, though many of the friends of Marcus M Towle, of this city, are talking of presenting his name to the convention. Should Mr. Towie decline the Republicans of this county will be at a loss where to throw their support. Many of them are in favor of Hon. E. D. Crumpacker, of Valparaiso, but a great many of the followers of Charles B. Landis, of Delphi, who received the nomination at the convention held in this city May 24, do not take kindly to Judge Crumpacker on account of the active part taken by him in the interest of Judge Johnson, whose friends bolted the convention which nominated Mr. Landis. The name of Hon. W. T. Wilson, of Logansport, is quite prominently mentioned, as is that of Judge E. P. Hammond, of Jasper county. Several other names are frequently mentioned, but not so prominently as the ones stated above.

Tracewell Makes a Good Impression. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SEYMOUR, Ind., July 31 .- The campaign on the part of the Republicans of Jackson county was opened in this city to-night. Nearly all the candidates on the county ticket were present. Hon. Robert Tracewell, candidate for Congress in the Third district, delivered a speech, which was full of Republican doctrine. He held the present Congress up to the public gaze, and his exposure of the incompetency of the party now in power met with the hearty approval of the large audience which packed the public reading room. The speech was well received, and Mr. Tracewell made a good impression upon the voters.

Fortieth Illinois District. MATTOON, Ill., July 31.-The Fortieth district Republicans met in this city in delegate convention, to-day, and by acclamation nominated as candidates to the Legislature, Hon. W. H. Wallace, of Hum-Coles county, and Hon. Alexander H. McTaggart, of Oconee, Shelby county, Both are successful and representative farmers and up with the times. They good chance of being elected, notwithstanding the Democratic plurality in the three counties of Douglass, Shelby and Coles, now composing the new For-tieth district, was about 1,000 in 1892.

In Tom Watson's District.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 31.-The Democratic convention of the Eighth congressional district has nominated Judge Thomas G. Lawson for Congress. The Democratic convention in the Tenth district nominated J. C. C. Black. Tom Watson will probably oppose Black again.

FIGHT WITH ROBBERS

THE COOK GANG'S FATAL ATTEMPT TO IMITATE THE DALTONS.

Looted a Bank at Chandler, O. T., and Then Broke for the Woods with a Posse in Pursuit.

GUTHRIE, O. T., July 31.-Another bank robbery, with all the trimmings of a Dalton raid, was enacted to-day. As a result one citizen, J. M. Mitchell, a barber, is dead, and one of the outlaws, who gives his name as Ernest Lucas, is dying. Lucas is twenty-one years old, and said his comrades were the members of the notorious Cook gang, that has recently given Territory officials so much trouble. Soon after 10 o'clock this morning five armed men rode into Chandler from the east, dismounted back of the Lincoln County Bank and three rushed inside, while two stood guard at the doors with Winchesters. Two men covered the president, Harvey Lee, and his brother, the cashier, and demanded that they turn over the cash pretty quick, while the third rushed into the private office, where Teller Hoyt was seriously sick, compelled him to walk to the safe and attempt to open it. Though a Winchester was pointed in his face, he could not stand long enough, but fell to the floor, and the robbers kicked him and shot at him, but missed fire. The men on guard called out that it was time to go, and the three men grabbed between two and three hundred dollars lying on the counter and ran out to the horses. In the meantime the guard at the front door had shot and killed J. M. Mitchell, a barber, who attempted to give the alarm. The bandits had scarcely passed out of the city when a posse mounted and started in pursuit. Twice were the horses shot from under the fleeing men, but they | Netherlands, all named William, their ancompelled farmers coming to town to give up their mounts and went on. Finally a battle was fought for nearly fifteen minutes, when one of the robbers was shot through the hip and the others scattered and disappeared in the hills of the Creek The wounded robber gave his name as Ernest Lucas, aged twenty-one, and said the others were the notorious Cook gang, and he had been with them but a week. The names of the escaped bandits are given as Bill and Tom Cook, leaders of the gang; Jack Starr and Tulea Jack, and a number among the desperate in the Terri-

EARNINGS OF CLERGYMEN.

Statistics Showing that, as a Class. They Are Reasonably Well Paid.

New York Sun. Some very interesting facts in regard to the pay of preachers in the United States have been collected by Mr. H. K. Carroll for the August number of the Forum. The extensive investigations made by the author of the article, covering as they do the records of all the chief denominations, show, as might have been expected, that the salaries paid by city churches are much higher than those paid by rural churches, and that the average earnings of a clergyman are considerably larger in the Northern than in the Southern States. On the whole, nevertheless, it seems that country ministers make as good a living as country doctors, and are better off than country school teachers; while those urban salaries which are regarded as the prizes of the profession are higher than those of college professors, or than those of judges of the federal and most of the State courts. The salaries of bishops are considered separately by Mr. Carroll, for the obvious reason that their average income exceeds that of the great body of the clergy, just as the average income of the bench exceeds that of the bar. In the Protestant Episcopal Church the pay of bishops varies from $3,000 a year, with $300 for official and traveling expenses, in the case of the episcopal heads of missionary jurisdictions, up to $12,500, with an allowance for house rent. There is only one salary of the latter size, however. Another Episcopal bishop has $9,750 and a house, one has $6,500, two have $6,000 each, three $5,000 each, and one, in the central West, only $3,300. It appears that in most cases a house is provided gratuitously, and often an allowance of $1,000 or less is added for a secretary or for expenses. The conclusion reached by Mr. Carroll is that $5,000 may be taken as the average salary of an Episcopal bishop. The pay of Catholic bishops is estimated at from $3,000 to $5,000 a year; archbishops, on the other hand, receive about $10,000. each of the sixteen bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church North is given a salary of about $3,500, plus $1,500 for house rent. As they are itinerant, their traveling expenses are considerable, but these are defrayed independently of their salaries. In the Methodist Episcopal Church South the bishops receive but $3,600 for ail purposes, including traveling expenditures, as well as house rent and salary. There are in the various denominations, including the Roman Catholic Church, about 240 bishops; their average income is $5,000, which is considerably more than that of college presidents, whose average earnings are only about $3,000 a year. Turning to the pay of ordinary clergymen, we find that in one of the Protestant Episcopal dioceses in an Eastern State four churches give their rectors $10,000 apiece together with a house; another $9,000, and four $8,000 each. Three-fourths of churches in the same diocese pay less than $2,000 each. In an Illinois diocese three churches pay $6,000 apiece, one $5,000, one $4,000, and three about $3,000 each; but other salaries range from $1,000 to $1,500. In the Presbyterian Church the average salary of a pastor is between $1,000 and $1,-200 a year, but there are eight or ten pastorates which pay $10,000 a year or more; six of these are in New York city, and one of them gives its preacher $15,000, besides the use of a parsonage. In the Southern Presbyterian Church, on the other hand. the highest salary is $4,500, and there is a descent from this figure to $100, or even less. The average salary of Congregational ministers is $1,047. The highest salaries are paid in New York and Brooklyn. One Congregational Church in the former city gives $12,500; three in Brooklyn give $10,000 each; others in Brooklyn pay $8,000 and $7,-500; in Boston two churches pay $7,000 apiece. Materially lower are even the highest incomes obtainable by Methodist ministers. There is, apparently, in the Methodist Episcopal Church, North, but a single instance where salary and house rent together amount to $7,000, and there are but thirteen churches which pay tween $5,000 and $6,500. In 115 richest churches the sa salary ranges from $3,000 to $7,000. Outside of the cities the incomes of Methodist ministers range from $2.500 downward, many a place paying only $500, with a house. In the Methodist Church, South, a few pastors receive as much as $4,000 a year, and none obtain more than that sum; the average is not above $500. The earnings of Baptist preachers are as a rule very small. In one Northern city a Baptist salary of $10,000 is paid, and in the same place five other Baptist ministers receive $5,000 each. In New York and Brooklyn not more than four get as much as $5,000 apiece. In the South $4,-000 is about the highest salary paid, and that is given only in Baltimore, Louisville and Atlanta. Among the Lutherans the largest salary recorded is $6,000, and that only in a single instance; there are not very many salaries amounting to $3,000. But it is the custom of the Lutherans to provide a parsonage, and the perquisites are relatively large, in some cases exceeding the salaries. The pastors of the Dutch Reformed Church are well paid, quite a number of them getting from $5,000 to $10,-000. It is stated, finally, that some Jewish rabbis receive as much as $12,000 in salary.

Mr. Carroll should put an end to the current notion that preachers are, as a class, underpaid. There is no lack of prizes in their profession, and they are sure of a support commensurate to their merits. Civil War in South America.

Estanislao S. Zebalios, in North American.

The civil wars which have occurred in South America cannot be understood in the United States, nor the causes leading to them be explained, except by an intimate acquaintance with the social structure and conditions of each particular country. Nor is the surprise unnatural which is occasioned here by the prolonged condition of anarchy resulting from some of those in-ternecine struggles, but it is explained by the forgetfulness of the organic conditions under which those republic were formed. These revolutions are not the work of our man, although they always follow a personal leadership. The despots and the revolutionists are equally the product of an organic internal condition. The States of the American Union were formed by an enlightened people, comprising among their number many religious enthusiasts and missionaries, versed in matters of government. They brought with them as the basis of their colonies a moral capacity, habits of esteem and obedience for the regulations laid down for the government of civil soci-ety, as well as the traditional regard for justice and respect for law upon which rest the civilization of England. From such seeds there spring a like country. United States, comparatively near to Europe, thus received from its most advanced centers the basis of its population, which exterminated the native Indian or isloated him in the Western solitudes, without any admixture of blood, except in very rare instances. The Spanish-American countries, on the other hand, were founded by military men of the middle ages, who came from southern Europe when the feudal system was imperative, and at a time when ideas were neither clear nor well settled concerning the civil and political principles which served for the government of all civilized lands. Besides, the soldier element, everywhere and at all times imprudent and venturesome, did not receive the support of European emigration.

HOLLAND'S YOUNG QUEEN. She Will Be Fifteen on the Last Day of August.

Philadelphia Press. The young lady whose fifteenth birthday will be Aug. 13 this year entitled Queen of the Netherlands—for the style "Kingdom of Holland" was borne only from 1806 to 1815, when Louis Bonaparte was king-is Wilhelmina, daughter of the late King William III and of his second wife. Queen Emma, a Princess of Waldeck and Pyrmont, sister to the Duchess of Albany. The mother of Queen Wil-helmina is Queen Regent during the minority of the youthful sovereign. Although have been only three kings of the cestors, the Princes of Orange, descendants of William of Nassau, the illustrious patriot and champion of Dutch political and religious liberties in the sixteenth century, held the office of Stadtholder without interruption except from 1651 to 1672, and personally conducted all the afministration. No royal family in Europe has produced men of equal ability in government, war and diplomacy to these princes-the first William of Orange, who was assassinated at Delft in 1584; his sons, Maurice, the most eminent soldier of his time, who died in 1625, and Frederick Henry, who until his death in 1647, during the thirty years' war, raised his country to the higest pitch of prosperity and power; and lastly, his greatgrandson, who became King William III of England, Ireland and Scotland. These were stadtholders, or executive presidents, and captains-general of the seven united provinces—namely, Holland, Zealand, Utrecht, Friesland, Gronigen, Gelderland and Over-fairs of foreign policy and military ad-

Of the kings in the nineteenth century, William II was a distinguished soldier, whose victory over the French at Quatre Bras facilitated that of Wellington at Waterloo. The house of Nassau claims as high antiquity as any now reigning; but the present young queen is the last of her race who could inherit the crown, unless she marry and have children, since the succession has been formally renounced by Adolf of Nassau, grand duke of Luxemburg. Wilhelmina has been educated so as to feel herself a true Dutchwoman, and willingly puts on the quaint, old-fashioned dress of the provincial farmers' wives, with their golden frontlets and lace caps, so wonderful to see in many a market town.

So, There!

Philadelphia Times. Lots of old fogy men declare against women powdering, saying that such artificial treatment detracts from the natural beauty of womankind. This is all stuff and nonsense, for isn't a dab of powder preferable to nature's artistic beacon, a red and shiny nose? Powder is cooling, and if it were used more by the masculine members of the family there would be less necessity for frantically mopping the brow at table and in other places where such treatment is not only out of order, but very objectionable. Burglars on Pennsylvania Street. Burglars entered the residence at No. 573 North Pennsylvania street at 8 o'clock last night and carried off a gold watch belonging to Miss Sarah Barnhill. The family was seated on the veranda while the burglars were in the house. S. H. Johnson, a fruit dealer, living at No. 200 North New Jersey street, was robbed of $55 while loading fruit in the J.,
